It's 4th Berlin Raid in 6 Days

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Berlin was attacked again today—for the fourth time in six days—by heavy bombers of the U. S. Eighth Air Force. It was the second day in a row Fortresses and Liberators had hit the German capital, first attacked by American forces last Saturday and again set afire Monday.

TWO OVER BERLIN

Blood, Sweat, But No Tears

(Great sky battles are many things to many men in them, and perhaps this account by Staff Sergs. Edward E. Huffman and Reuben I. Lehto is typical. Huffman is tail gunner on "Little Girl No. 2." The Berlin battle yesterday was his 12th mission. He is 20 and is from Indianapolis. Lehto is radio gunner on the same ship and was on his 13th mission yesterday. He is 22 and from Ironwood, Mich.)
By STAFF SERGTS. EDWARD E. HUFFMAN AND REUBEN I. LEHTO
(Told to the Associated Press)

A BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, March 9—For out our escort got into so many dogfights some of them had to turn off before they used up their gas.

Most of the attacks were from lead on or aimed at our tail. Enemy fighters would charge us single file, in a line of 14 or 15. One string would roll through our formations from one side to the other, just like we wasn't there. Then another string would follow them. That lasted about 45 minutes.

I (Huffman) saw one Fortress collapse after being riddled by a 20-millimeter cannon. One wing came off, carrying two engines with it. Then the tail assembly fell off. Yes, it gives you a sickening feeling but you don't have time to feel sorry for the poor guys in it. You just wonder where lightning will strike next.

Every gunner in hundreds of Forts in our formation was shooting like hell at those Jerries—and knocking down plenty.

It was more than 50 below zero but the sweat rolled down our faces like we were toasting potatoes. About nine ME-109's came in behind us. The first four were a little high, but the fifth man was dead behind me (Huffman) and when he was about 40 yards off I just froze to my gun. At 300 yards he started smoking and plunged straight down.

A pack of ME-170's attacked us. Our ship got it. They knocked out our oxygen system, part of the radio controls and damaged the landing gear. A couple of our walk-around oxygen bottles were busted.

For an hour, four of us gunners huddled in the waist compartment, sharing the oxygen supply.

We tried to crack jokes, but it's pretty hard to do in a spot like that.

A 20-millimeter shell burst and knocked two waist gunners down. A piece of armor plating hit the other waist gunner and knocked him down. He looked up and said, "I thought they had me that time, but I guess my head is too damned thick."

Another 20-mm had knocked out one of our engines but the chief (Lieut. Howard B. Lynch, 27, Franklin, Pa., pilot) kept her right in formation all the way over Berlin and back.

Boy, can those guys fly! All the time we were under attack, they kept calling out to us: "Don't worry about it, kids. Just keep your chin up and we'll get there."

They didn't even mention that the navigator up in the nose was killed. We didn't know he was dead until we were back on the ground.

37,853 U. S. War Dead Reported

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—American war casualties so far total 162,282, of whom 37,853 are dead.

War Secretary Stimson announced Army casualties as of Feb. 23 totaled 121,458. Of this number 20,592 were killed, 47,318 wounded, 26,326 are missing and 27,222 prisoners.

The latest Navy total is 40,824, made up of 17,261 killed, 9,910 wounded, 9,239 missing and 4,414 prisoners. Of the total casualties the Navy has suffered 27,383, Marines 12,986 and the Coast Guard 455.

Stimson said that of the 47,318 Army wounded, 25,291 have been returned to duty or discharged.

Cassino Casualties Of Nazis Now 9000

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 9 (AP)—Fifth Army forces have inflicted 9000 casualties on the Germans at Cassino since the end of January, bringing total enemy losses in Italy for that period to approximately 40,000.

The Cassino casualties, including 1500 captured and the remainder killed or wounded, were disclosed as a communique told of the repulse of two minor German thrusts against the American beachhead positions southeast of Carrovelo.

German losses on the beachhead have been announced as about 24,000. Except for the two minor strafes on the beachhead, all fronts remained relatively quiet yesterday aside from routine patrolling, artillery duels and a German night air raid on the beachhead in which antipersonnel bombs were dropped.

The weather was fair to cloudy yesterday and Allied aircraft got off on approximately 900 flights, Today's attack demonstrated the amazing reserve strength in equipment and the endurance of the Eighth Air-force crews.

Strong forces of fighters from the eighth and ninth airforces escorted the bombers.

The first announcement gave no hint as to how today's bomber formations compared in strength with yesterday's raid on the German capital by at least 850 four-engine bombers.

First Berlin announcements failed to crow over the "great aerial battles" as during the previous American raids and today's formations may have reached the city with comparatively minor resistance from German fighters. It was certain that the German air arm was experiencing one of the most exhausting weeks of the war.

DOWN 125 NAZI PLANES

Yesterday's operations, involving from 850 to 1000 bombers meanwhile was disclosed to have taken a toll of 125 planes of the enemy's determined fighter forces.

Forty-two of these were shot down by the bombers and 83 by the swarm of American and Allied fighters.

This tally brought to 301 the number of enemy planes accounted for in two great sallies against the German capital Monday and Wednesday.

Thirty-eight of the big American bombers were lost, compared with 68 on Monday, while fighter losses totaled 15 instead of the 16 as first reported yesterday. Eleven fighters were lost Monday.

In addition to the damage done Hitler's force in the air, a U. S. headquarters announcement said all four of the main buildings of the VKF ballbearing factory at Erkner in the suburbs of Berlin were bombed yesterday.

At least one was seriously damaged and left burning, while smoke so obscured the other three that the damage could not be discerned.

BUILDINGS ON FIRE

Three buildings of a factory making torpedo parts also were set afire.

The German high command in its communique today admitted that damage was suffered from the attack but asserted 112 Allied aircraft, including 66 four-engine bombers, were brought down.

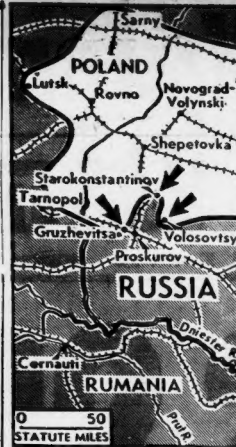

"Our very strong fighter escort defeated them again," a U. S. communique declared, however.

The announcement declared the enemy attempts to disrupt the formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators were "without success."

Stockholm dispatches to London morning newspapers quoted the Morgon Tidningen as reporting from Berlin that "thousands of persons were killed" and hundreds of fires started.

'Sleep Nook' Opens For Servicemen

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—A "sleep nook"—replete with 75 steamer chairs and blankets—will be opened by the Travelers Aid Society in Grand Central Terminal tonight for sleepy servicemen wishing to catch a snooze between yesterday and Allied aircraft got off on approximately 900 flights,

RUSSIA—Red forces have narrowed the escape corridor for Germans in the Starokonstantinov area to a 26-mile gap between Gruzhevitza and Volosovitsy (arrows)

REDS IN DRIVE TO TAKE VITAL RAIL BASE

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Marshal Zhukov's army drove forward through the deep, sticky mud of the southwestern Ukraine today toward the important junction of Proskurov, capture of which, Moscow dispatches said, would give the Russians a firm grip on a 40-mile stretch of the Odessa-Warsaw trunk railway.

A Soviet communique announced that Russian forces already had captured Chern-Ostrov, only 11 miles northwest of Proskurov, and said a furious battle was raging inside Staro-Konstantinov, a vital German base 25 miles to the north.

Failure of the Germans to hold Proskurov, it was pointed out would force them to fall back on a circuitous rail line running from Lwow to Cernauli, Rumania, thence back to the Odessa-Warsaw line at Zhmerinka.

Capture of Chern-Ostrov was followed by the storming of Gruzhevitza, four miles further east. This narrowed the escape corridor for the Germans fighting in the Staro-Konstantinov area to a 26-mile-long gap.

Yanks Beat Off Big Jap Thrusts

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ

Associated Press War Editor

Two Jap counter-attacks in the Bismarck Sea campaign were reported in today's Allied communique. One, on Los Negros island in the Admiralty group, was smashed, and the other, on New Britain's Willaumez peninsula, is being bitterly resisted.

Veteran American Marine shock troops are fighting to hold their Willaumez peninsula beachhead, which they established Monday, against fanatical Japanese counter-assaults.

Associated Press War Correspondent Murlin Spencer reported from the scene the landing met the bitterest opposition of any such operation in the Southwest Pacific and was accomplished without naval or air bombardment.

The Leathernecks are driving for the unused Talasea emergency landing strip five miles from the beachhead. The airstrip is 170 airline miles from Rabaul, main Jap base on New Britain's north-east tip.

Subs Sink 16 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—American submarines have sunk 16 more Japanese ships in enemy-controlled waters.

The big bag included one large tanker possibly loaded with badly needed fuel for enemy bases.

In addition to the large tanker, other ships sunk by the undersea craft included five transports and 10 cargo vessels.

A recapitulation of the damage done Japanese shipping by our submarines shows: Definitely sunk, 477 craft of all types; probably sunk, 36, and damaged, 114.

The totals for all types of activities, including submarines, planes and surface ships, are 1065 sunk, 107 probably sunk and 817 damaged.

Trinkets Galore On Dead Japs

By LEE VAN ATTA

WITH AMERICAN FORCES ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND, March 6 (Delayed) (INS)—The landing on this vital island in the Admiralty chain has provided the Americans with a treasure trove of souvenirs. Some of the most colorful battle flags, weapons and trinkets yet found in the Pacific are found on dead Japs. Also found on every body are numerous pornographic pictures in the best Nip traditions.

"These would make the Minskys blush," one tough top sergeant said. The souvenirs taken from the body of one Jap gave a tip-off on how Tokyo is shifting its troops. His collection included coins from Hong Kong, Manila, Singapore and Manchukuo, a British officer's Masonic lodge pin, a tiny gold medallion with an English inscription relating to some track victory and a picture from an old movie magazine of Errol Flynn leading a bayonet charge.

R. I. Fireman Killed

PROVIDENCE, March 9 (AP).—Fire Lieut. William J. McElroy, 45, was killed by smoke inhalation today while fighting a fire on the roof of a tenement.

While small forces of Japanese planes darted through the night, a cluster of troop-filled enemy barges attempted to land on Los Negros island Tuesday, Gen. MacArthur communicated. But American artillery caught the barges offshore and every landing attempt was repulsed.

Allied forces leap-frogging up the coast of New Guinea have strengthened their positions west of Sador and are now 23 airline miles from their objective, Madang.

South Pacific planes, some of them springing from the newly-carved Allied airfield on Green island at the north tip of the Solomon Islands, pounded Rabaul with 55 tons of bombs, hit Kavien, New Ireland, with 62 tons, and struck other targets throughout the Bismarck archipelago.

CURIOUS — Rene Berg, 2, of Watertown, learned she had a new baby brother in Lying-In Hospital . . . so she packed up her grip and went to see him. Found by police, she was returned to her grandmother's home.

Mistrial Ruled In Noxon Case

By PAULINE WARREN
Boston American Staff Writer

PITTSFIELD, March 9—A mistrial in the Noxon murder case was declared today by Judge Abraham E. Pinanski, because one juror was physically unable to withstand the strain. As a result, John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy lawyer, must undergo an entirely new trial on charges he killed his six-

YOUTH ADMITS LOOTING IN ROXBURY

Nabbed by police as he was crawling through the transom of an apartment house in Marble st., Roxbury, a 15-year-old South End youth admitted today that he ransacked the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Phelan, in Ruggles st., Roxbury, Tuesday night, and fled with $220 in cash.

The youth, who escaped from Lyman School last Feb. 20, had $160 of the loot on his person. He said he had spent the remainder to buy himself a complete "zoot suit" outfit, including shoes, two hats, shirts and ties.

He was captured by Sergt. Patrick Mulvey and Special Officer Louis Pinkofsky. The money he stole from the Phelan home was the savings of Mrs. Phelan's sailor son, who is serving in the Pacific.

New 2nd Front Plea

MOSCOW, March 9 (AP)—Adolf Hitler will not fall from bombing alone, but by the "active operations of a land army of many millions in co-operation with air and sea forces," Lieut.-Gen. Boris Sterligov declared in Red Star today, commenting on the British-American air offensive against the Reich.

months-old defective son, Lawrence, by improvising an "electric chair" in their sumptuous home.

Judge Pinanski set the new trial for May 31—the day after a probable Memorial Day visit by Mrs. Noxon to the grave of her infant boy.

$10,000 COST TO DATE

Noxon was placed on trial Feb. 23. The proceedings against him to date have cost Berkshire County $10,000, while the defendant's expenses for top rank legal and medical experts are presumed to have been in high brackets.

The juror whose inability to cope with tension and responsibility was James E. Cullen, 53, juror No. 9. Three physicians reported to the court that he had developed an "anxiety neurosis" and was in such a "depressed condition" he was unfit to continue.

In a formal statement handed to the press after court, Dist. Atty. Alberti criticised the present law which states the trial could not be continued with an 11-man jury. He said:

"The declaration of mistrial demonstrates with striking effect a glaring defect in the laws of the Commonwealth. The illness of one juror made it necessary to declare a mistrial, in that no legal means have thus far been provided whereby an alternate juror can be made available to permit a capital case to continue with the requisite number of jurors."

MOVES FOR NOXON BAIL

Alberti added it was "high time" the Legislature took action to correct the situation.

He made it plain he had no alternative even though prosecution and defense were willing to go on with a jury of 11.

Noxon's chief counsel, former Gov. Ely, told the judge he was preparing a motion asking Noxon be released under bail pending the new trial. He explained he was merely informing the court and was not ready at the moment to submit it.

Judge Pinanski cited to the jurors several instances of record to illustrate that a defendant has no legal right to be tried by less than 12 jurors in a capital case.

M. P.'S QUIZ CHURCHILL ON ITALIAN FLEET

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today disposition of "enemy or ex-enemy" fleets had best be left until the end of the war, but confirmed President Roosevelt's announcement consideration was being given to reinforcement of the Soviet navy by Italian or other warships.

Answering a flood of questions, Churchill indicated to Commons the Italian warships still were being operated by the Italians under the old arrangements.

"As President Roosevelt has said the question of disposal of the Italian fleet has been a subject of some discussion and in particular consideration has been given to the immediate reinforcement of the Soviet navy, either from Anglo-American or Italian resources," he told the House.

Earl Winterton, Conservative, asked Churchill "does he not think it highly desirable when statements of the greatest importance . . . are made that they should so far as possible be made simultaneously by the head of state of this country and of the United States?"

The Prime Minister replied, "it for me to lay down the rules."

Leslie Hore-Belisha asked Churchill, "Would it be possible to make announcements as a concerted statement in Washington and London simultaneously?"

"No," Churchill answered, "I certainly could not give any undertaking of that character."

Report Doolittle's Aide Nazi Prisoner

LONDON, March 9 (INS)—Col. William Ernest Spear, a member of Maj.-Gen. James Doolittle's aerial staff, was reported today to be a prisoner of the Germans, taken after he bailed out of his crippled plane following Monday's daylight attack on Berlin.

Mate Sharing Tied to Killing

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 9 (AP)—The defense called new witnesses today in the trial of Helen M. Wucherer after the widow testified she had offered to share with a brunette divorcee the "model husband" she is accused of murdering.

The state charges that Mrs. Wucherer, 44, shot school teacher August Wucherer, 51, in their home last Oct. 31 after learning of his friendship with 37-year-old Mrs. Marion Johnson.

In tears, Mrs. Wucherer said on the witness stand that she asked her husband to "break with" Mrs. Johnson, that he refused and that she then said:

"I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll share ourselves with you. No one will know and it may be the best thing to do."

Mrs. Wucherer, pleading temporary insanity, was asked by her counsel, William A. Gray, why she had not consulted a psychiatrist.

"Because," she sobbed, "I was afraid he would send me to the crazy house."

She said her mind went blank just before Wucherer was slain.

"I must have fallen asleep," she related. "About midnight he came in and I called, 'Gus? Come in and sit down and put your arms around me and give me a little comfort."

Wucherer refused, saying "I'm in love with this girl; I want to marry her as soon as I get a divorce," Mrs. Wucherer testified.

At this point, she said, she grabbed her revolver intending to take her own life.

"I can't remember what happened," she continued. "I remember hearing sounds and seeing a dim outline in front of me on the floor."

PARENTS OF SHOOTING VICTIMS AT INQUEST—The heart-broken parents of two girls who lost their lives in a wild shooting orgy at Camp Ana, Cal., attend the inquest which resulted in a verdict that the girls and a policeman "came to their deaths at the hands of Lieut. Beaufort Swancutt with homicidal intent." Shown are (l. to r.) Mr. and Mrs. John Livermore, parents of Lourdine Livermore; Capt. Cecil Ybarra, who was engaged to Miss Livermore, and Mr. and Mrs. W. NAZI TANKS FIGHT ITALIAN STRIKERS

By EDWARD KENNEDY

NAPLES, March 9 (AP)—The Germans are using tanks against strikers in Milan and other industrial centers of northern Italy, the Bari radio said today, as the national committee for Italian affairs called on all Italians under German rule to take up arms against the Nazis as well as participate in the general strike.

German-controlled broadcasts from northern Italy admitted more than 200,000 Italian workers had responded to the general strike call.

These broadcasts said that M. Ercoli, chief of the Italian Communist party, had shipped into Milan from Switzerland in January to organize the strike.

Italian Communists say Ercoli whose real name is Palmiro Togliatti, has been in Russia. The Communist party convention in Naples in February issued an appeal to the Allied governments for the return to Italy of Ercoli and "other militant and anti-Fascists still in exile."

Gen. Chiang Praises U. S. 14th Air Force

CHUNGKING, March 9 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, highly praising the U. 14 Ships on Hoax Trip

PILOT'S STORY SPURS DRIVE OF RED CROSS

Hopeful of attaining more than 50 per cent of Boston's quota in the 1944 Red Cross War Fund drive before the next report luncheon on Monday, 30,000 volunteer workers continued their solicitations today inspired by the report of a Waltham hero-aviator who publicly credited the Red Cross with saving the lives of his buddies.

Back home for a rest after 25 bomber raids over Europe, Tech. Sergt. Warren F. Day, 20-year-old radio operator of Hawthorne rd., Waltham, told how Red Cross blood plasma saved the lives of four crew members of his Fortress, seriously wounded during a raid on the Schweinfurt ball-bearing works.

Day, one of four aboard the plane to escape injury, said his left waist gunner lost a leg, the navigator's lung was pierced by flak, and another gunner and bombardier sustained critical wounds.

"The amazing thing was that they all lived," Sergt. Day declared. "We thought they were dead ducks, but the combination of blood plasma and expert surgical treatment brought them through."

Dumped in Truk Lagoon, Survives

By CLINTON GREEN

PEARL HARBOR, March 9 (RNS)—Lieut. George Blair, USNR, 22, of Sewickley, Pa. is considered the luckiest man in the Pacific today because he spent three hours in Truk lagoon during the height of the American combined air-sea attack on the Jap Pearl Harbor and lived to tell the story.

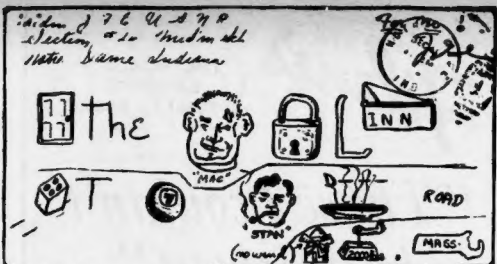

Lieut. Blair was dumped into Truk lagoon on the morning of Feb. 17, when the American attack was at its height. Piloting a Hellcat, he had been strafing Jap ships anchored between Dublon and Uman islands. Antiaircraft fire knocked out the engine of his plane and he landed in the water.

After floating in his Mae West for three hours, during which time he was subjected to a heavy fire from five-inch guns on a Jap destroyer, Blair was picked up by a Navy float plane from a cruiser.

Mrs. Cutler Enters GOP Committee Race

With the announcement by Mrs. Leslie B. Cutler of Needham, board of health member and a former selectman of that town, that she will be a candidate for Neutribian national committee-woman, a contest seemed assured today.

The incumbent, Mrs. Louise Williams of Taunton, says she will seek another term.

Miss McLoughlin willingly showed the envelope but declined to state whether the contents were also sprinkled with mysterious symbols.

East Boston Fire Results in Arrest

While firemen extinguished burning curtains in a Princeton st., East Boston, house early today, police seized a 46-year-old man on suspicion of having attempted to set the building afire.

He was arrested when a girl told a patrolman she saw the suspect run out of the house a few minutes before flames flared up in the windows.

'Goon Gun' Success In Italy and Pacific

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The Army disclosed some details today about its 4.2-inch mortar which has been used with great success both in the Pacific and in Italy, and which troops using it have dubbed "the goon gun."

It is new only with respect to certain refinements, because it was originally developed by the U. S. Chemical Warfare Service some 20 years ago.

Now, with improvements, it can lob a score of 24-pound projectiles as far as two and a half miles in 60 seconds and some gun crews have gotten six shells in the air before the first one landed.

PHOSPHORUS SHELLS

It is currently being used for high explosives and white phosphorus shells and veterans back from Sicily have reported the Germans fear these latter more than any weapon employed by the Allies.

Writing in the Infantry Journal, Brig.-Gen. Alden H. Waitt reported a single phosphorus shell fired by this mortar spreads its burst over an area of 40 yards in diameter, setting fires as well as causing casualties.

One "goon gun" company in Italy was reported to have en-

DRIVE TO KEEP SISTER KENNY GAINS IMPETUS

Special to Boston Evening American
CHICAGO, March 9—A flood of letters from throughout the Middle West appealed to Chicagoans today to get behind the drive to keep Sister Kenny in America.

Many letters, addressed to the Chicago Herald-American in praise of this newspaper's recent editorial in Sister Kenny's behalf, contained contributions toward a fund to insure continuance of her work in America.

The letters gave new impetus to the drive to retain in "his country the famous Australian nurse who developed a new treatment for infantile paralysis. Still another boost for this campaign will be the mass meeting Friday night in Oriental Hall, under sponsorship of Chicago nurses.

But Jeez, that was no place for us," O'Brien explained. "So Driskell and I pulled stakes and so did my friend. Driskell and I got back but the kid didn't. It was about 2:30 in the morning when the Japs started coming in. They were yelling 'don't shoot, we're Americans. And because we knew the cavalry boys up ahead were having plenty of trouble we believed 'em."

"Then one got in the dugout we'd taken over—and from then on we knew it was nobody but our little Nip friends.

"The kid and I started firing—I had a 30-calibre tommygun. The kid took over the 50-calibre, which we found damaged in the gaged a battery of German 88-mm. guns (which have four times the range and outweigh the 42 some 30 times), and to have destroyed the battery with 12 rounds.

The mortar is also a prime reserve weapon should the enemy provoke a gas war in the face of President Roosevelt's warning that gas attack will meet with retaliation in kind.

WEIGHS 300 POUNDS

Gen. Waitt says the "goon" can—if need arises—place nearly two tons of chemical agent "such as phosgene" on a target within two minutes—"enough gas to put completely out of action every unprotected man in an area of a quarter of a million square yards."

The gun weighs about 300 pounds, can be dismantled for quick movement by its crew and is like a field gun in contrast to the old smooth-bore Stokes mortar. This provides tremendous accuracy.

Melrose Boy Leads 10 In Killing of 320 Japs

"This man has guts—plenty of guts and I admire and respect him for what he has done," That is the way Maj.-Gen. Innis Swift, commanding American forces in the Admiralty Islands, introduced International News Service War Correspondent Lee Van Atta to 19-year-old Edward O'Brien of Melrose, Mass. Here is the story of young O'Brien—a story to equal the best from New Guinea or Guadalcanal, from Africa or from Europe.

A brief 18 months ago, he was a high school student, as carefree as any 'teen-age student is entitled to be.

At that time he lived with his mother, Mrs. Edna V. O'Brien, in Walnut st., Melrose, Mass.

Today, Ed O'Brien is bleary-eyed, gaunt, fighting-mad—and a hero.

Three nights ago, Ed O'Brien killed 16 Japs single-handed. Then at the height of a Japanese attack against the western side of the captured Momote airfield, O'Brien organized a patrol of 10 other "non-combatant" Seabees and went out for Japanese blood.

There were 320 dead sons of Japan when dawn illumined the scarred battle scene where O'Brien and his companions had held the fort alone for five hours against fanatical Japanese attacks which seemed as though they would never cease.

That briefly is Ed O'Brien's story—but only part of it. His best friend was killed by his side that terrible night of hand-to-hand war, and O'Brien's 30-calibre machine gun blew up in his hands as he waved it to and fro, spraying death upon the yelling Nips rushing into his position.

But O'Brien came out unscratched—and he came out to find himself a fighting legend of which every Seabee can well be proud.

SENT OUT AT DUSK

He told his story to me today on the edge of the Momote airstrip—and he remembered all those who went with him—and came back.

Among them were Bill Driskell of San Jose, Cal., and Paul Prince of Leominster, Mass.

It was dusk that Saturday evening when O'Brien's commanding officer assigned the young Irishman and his companions to stand guard over secondary positions.

"But Jeez, that was no place for us," O'Brien explained. "So Driskell and I pulled stakes and so did my friend. Driskell and I got back but the kid didn't. It was about 2:30 in the morning when the Japs started coming in. They were yelling 'don't shoot, we're Americans. And because we knew the cavalry boys up ahead were having plenty of trouble we believed 'em."

"Then one got in the dugout we'd taken over—and from then on we knew it was nobody but our little Nip friends.

"The kid and I started firing—I had a 30-calibre tommygun. The kid took over the 50-calibre, which we found damaged in the

Hunt Hero's Mother

Former neighbors of Edward John O'Brien, hero hero-subject today of Correspondent Lee Van Atta's dispatch from the South Pacific, identified him as "Jackie" O'Brien, once of Walnut st., Melrose, and East Foster, Melrose.

But the young Seabee's mother has moved since his enlistment in the Navy July 28, 1942, at the federal building, Boston, and none of her former neighbors knew her present address.

Jackie gave the address of an uncle, William Connerton, of the Hotel Osmond, West Foster st., Melrose, when he enlisted. Connerton, said at the hotel to be an electrician employed at Boston Navy Yard, could not be reached today.

The hero Seabee received a second class seaman's rating at the time of his enlistment.

dugout, and had it repaired in a jiffy.

JAPS KEPT COMING

"We told Driskell to try to get back and tell the rest what was going on, and he sneaked off in the dark.

"I never knew there were so damned many Japs in the world—they just started coming and never stopped. I didn't even try to aim—just kept firing the 'thirty' as fast as I could.

"The kid had the 'fifty' going by then and we kept weaving our firing back and forth. You could hear those Nips screaming like pigs—we never knew if they were screaming as they attacked or when we hit them, but it was enough to curdle your blood.

"Then they got the kid—right through the heart. He was only a few feet from me, but I couldn't go to him. My 'thirty' blew up in my hands; I guess it was so hot you could have fried a dozen eggs on it.

"I moved over and got hold of the fixed 'fifty' and kept firing—don't ask me at whom or how because I don't know. Maybe I was too scared to do anything else, but I think I was more mad than scared."

O'Brien paused for a moment to wipe perspiration from his brow and Driskell took up the story.

"I got back to the secondary position and found 'Scotty' McKee of Spokane, Wash., in one of our coconut dugouts. I told him what happened and he stood right up," recalled Driskell.

SHOW GREAT COURAGE

"Hey, you guys," he (McKee) yelled at the rest of the gang, "we're in a mess; if we go back any farther we're in the drink;

let's get up with O'Brien and blow the brains out of every ——— on this rock."

Driskell didn't have to add that every Seabee went with McKee and himself back to O'Brien. From then on—for three more hours of darkness—the Seabee patrol stood alone against the Japs.

Driskell rejoined O'Brien and the others found dugouts of their own; perhaps they had been Nip dugouts or perhaps they were American before the enemy's counterattacks began. Whoever they had been, they now belonged to the Seabees—and so did the guns in them.

It was courageous, perhaps even foolhardy, but it was a courage and foolhardiness that are so closely aligned that the difference can be indiscernible.

320 DEAD JAPS

Whatever made them get up there in the first place, the Seabees were there to stay, and stay they did. When dawn came 320 dead Japanese lay in the line of fire of that 10-man defending force—and one American was dead by the gun he had manned.

Most Americans on Momote airstrip say O'Brien's Commandos saved the drome and perhaps even the whole beachhead that night, and there is none who will disagree. Driskell took me aside.

"Ed buried his friend yesterday morning," he said. "He carved out the cross himself from some tree branches, and cried when we buried the boy—the first time before or since that I've ever seen O'Brien cry.

"That crazy guy has us all beat when it comes to plain guts."

And that's the story of Ed O'Brien, carpenter's mate third class, United States Seabee Battalion; temporary station, Momote airdrome.

It's all the story of Ed O'Brien, except to say that his stocky, redish-blond-topped figure is still in these jungles, a brace of grenades cuddling next to the revolver at his waist and another tommygun in his hands.

As he said, he isn't scared—just downright mad.

6 Argentina, U. S. in Battle for Control

By KINGSBURY SMITH

WASHINGTON, March 9 (INS)—Latin American sources in Washington believed today that a diplomatic battle of the first magnitude is now under way between the U. S. government and the Argentine military regime, headed by Acting President Edelmiro Farrell.

Basic Scot

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Basic English—a vocabulary stripped to 850 essential words—will be encouraged by the British government as an auxiliary international and administrative language, Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today. A member from West Fife in the heart of Scotland suggested it would be better to teach good Scot pronunciation "and thereby avoid the fluctuating and irritating noises generally made by the English."

Latin American circles in Washington are inclined to believe the Argentine military clique has now won the first round in the current diplomatic struggle by getting Chile to recognize the Farrell regime as the legitimate government of Argentina. Bolivia quickly followed suit, and Paraguay is now reported to have told Argentina that cordial relations between the two countries will continue uninterrupted.

The Army group is believed to be trying to establish an Argentine-dominated bloc of military governments in South America with a view to restoring the position of Argentina as the leading power on that continent. The Argentine government already has moved to set up an economic bloc by proposing customs union with neighboring countries.

In the belief that the Argentine military regime is dominated by pro-Fascist elements who are opposed to full co-operation with the Allied cause, the United States government is striving to prevent diplomatic recognition of that regime.

Roscoe C. Hill Rites Planned in Lexington

Funeral of Roscoe C. Hill, State Police fingerprint expert who gained national fame in helping to solve many murder mysteries, will be held tomorrow from his home in North Hancock st., Lexington.

Mr. Hill is survived by his wife and a son, Maj. Edward C. Hill, Army physician stationed in Maryland. Frequently called as an expert in capital cases in many states, the police official was an important witness for the prosecution in the Gerald Chapman trial in Connecticut.

KNOX URGES EXTENSION OF LEND-LEASE

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Navy Secretary Knox said today the Allies are "on the threshold of critical" offensives against the Axis which will dwarf all previous thrusts.

Thus, said Knox, this is the time for Congress to assure the partners of the United States that the final blow will be struck. That can be done, he told the House foreign affairs committee, by continuing the lend-lease act which expires June 30. A three-year extension is being sought.

Knox revealed that, under lend-lease, the U. S. has transferred 1400 ships to the Allies, most of them to the British, though title is retained and they are to be returned when the war ends. Four thousand naval aircraft also were provided.

U. S. naval repairs facilities have sent back into the war one French battleship, four cruisers, three destroyers, three submarines and six tankers. The carrier Bearn is now being conditioned for action, he added.

90,000 Miners Out in Britain

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—The Welsh coal strike assumed more alarming proportions today when a fresh wave of walkouts boosted the number of idle miners to 90,000—or about 90 per cent of the total in the coal fields.

A total of 165 mines now are idle as a result of the wage dispute, which is depriving Britain's war industries of sorely-needed fuel and threatening to cripple the transportation system.

The strike spread this morning to the Swansea anthracite district, when 14 pits closed there. The new walkouts dealt a severe blow to optimism engendered late yesterday when it appeared that one of the chief obstacles to settlement of the dispute was removed at a conference of miners and operators.

Editorial comment in the British press reflected grave concern over the consequences of a strike at a time when the world is talking about a coming Allied offensive against Western Europe.

2 Points Hold Up Finn Peace

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Soviet demands that Finland withdraw her troops to the 1940 Russian-Finnish border and intern all German troops now in Finland appeared today to be the chief stumbling block barring the path to peace between the two nations.

British press dispatches from Stockholm last night said the Finns had advised Moscow that they were ready to accept most of the conditions imposed by the Russians as a prerequisite to further peace negotiations but that they could not accede to these two demands.

The Finnish note, however, was described as conciliatory and apparently left the door open for further exchanges.

Here's New Way To Get Apartment

AURORO, Ill., March 9 (INS)—The housing shortage, along with the reluctance of landlords to accept couples with children, inspired the following advertisement in the Aurora Beacon-News which was read with mingled shock and amusement today:

"Wanted—To rent in St. Charles on Geneva, 4 or 5 room house or apartment; reasonable rent. Two adults and one cute 2-year-old boy. Will drown him if necessary. Phone Aurora 6357."

The telephone number led to Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ogren, the latter explaining:

"Of course, we're not serious about drowning Barry, but we're getting so desperate that we had to do something to call attention to this unfortunate situation. Having a normal 2-year-old must be a horrible crime these days."

4 Bay State Fliers Win Berlin Glory

Four Massachusetts men played important roles in the huge American bombing attack on Berlin according to Associated Press dispatches from England reporting their experiences during the gigantic raid.

A Fitchburg man, Capt. Douglas H. Buskey of South st., was pilot of one flak-battered Fortress which limped back to its base with the body of its 27-year-old right waist gunner dangling from the jammed bomb bay doors.

The gunner, a sergeant making his first trip over Berlin, died on the return trip from lack of oxygen after becoming wedged in the doors which he was trying to close by hand.

"We hardly were more than over the enemy coast when flak started and all of it was aimed at us," Capt. Buskey said. "Two engines were crippled and one burst of flak hit the top turret. From then on it was a question of whether we should turn back. We decided to go on."

Eddie Shultz of Westfield was a gunner aboard the Flying Fortress "Margie May," which returned with 70 gaping holes in the fuselage. None of the crew was injured, however, and Shultz was credited with shooting down an enemy fighter.

Lieut. F. M. Rogers of Beacon st., Boston, a member of the fighter escort that accompanied the bombers, reported that "the weather was ideal for a ride and we got a good view of the city."

Fourth Massachusetts man mentioned in news reports of the raid was Lieut. Howard C. Francis of Winthrop st., Taunton.

Brakeman Hurt in Fall

John Morris, 32, of Lonsdale st., Dorchester, a New Haven railroad brakeman, suffered a fractured shoulder today when he fell from a freight car.

Hiccoughs Victim Same

Little change was noted today in the condition of Bertha Stevens, victim of a 10-day spell of hiccoughing, who is in City Hospital for treatment and a possible operation to end the attack.

Dr. Francis P. Chiampa, Back Bay physician and a member of the hospital staff, said preparations are being made to crush the young woman's phrenic nerves by means of a throat operation.

With her coughing thus checked, the nerves would be expected to come back to normalcy in about 10 days or two weeks, Dr. Chiampa said.

"Pagliacci."

A substitute tenor, Mario Palerno, carried on in the title role.

Only a few moments before Lindi collapsed face downward on the stage, a friend asked him his health.

"I'll tell you in five minutes," Lindi replied.

In five minutes he was dead.

PITTSBURGH, March 9 (AP)—Judge John P. Egan granted a divorce to Mrs. Eunice Kaiser, who testified her sailor husband wrote her:

"I sort of wish we lived in a country where more than one wife was permitted, because if a man ever loved two women, it's me."

Mrs. Kaiser said her husband, Walter James Kaiser, now with the Navy in the Pacific, fell in love with another woman, married her in Brackenridge, Minn., and became the father of a child.

CARDINAL SETS DAY OF PRAYER FOR HOLY CITY

Appealing to the leaders of all warring nations to spare Rome from the destruction of war, Cardinal O'Connell today asked all Catholics to join in a crusade of prayer for preservation of the Holy City and for the welfare of the Pope.

In a letter to be read at masses in all Catholic churches of the archdiocese on Sunday, the fifth anniversary of the elevation of Pope Pius XII to the papacy, the Cardinal states:

"I urge you most earnestly to join me in making this anniversary a day of fervent prayer for the welfare of our beloved Holy Father and for the preservation of Rome, sacred city so dear to the hearts of all Christians.

"I entreat you to pray God to touch the hearts of the leaders of nations, that they may all respect the unique sanctity of Rome and spare the holy city which for two thousand years has been the center of spiritual life, the devotion, art and culture of the Christian world.

"God grant that Rome, the center of Christianity and the See of Peter, may be spared from destruction and ruin."

Dutch See MacArthur On East Indies Plans

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 9 (AP) —Dr. Hubertus J. van Mook, minister of colonies for the Dutch government-in-exile in England, discussed re-occupation of the Netherlands East Indies here today with Gen. MacArthur and announced a Dutch government-in-exile is being formed in Australia.

Dr. Van Mook will head the new government-in-exile by decree of Queen Wilhelmina.

Silenced!

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 9 (AP)—A protest to the city commission from persons unable to sleep in the vicinity of the Ingersoll Steel and Disc plant, makers of amphibious tanks, failed to get far with employees of that war production unit.

Inviting the critics to "come on over here and help win the war and in that way end the noise that much sooner," the employees issued an open letter to the public saying the enemy does not stop its guns for soldiers to sleep and "therefore we cannot stop the testing of tanks at night in order that the public might sleep."

No further protests were heard.

12,000 Reds Die in Camp

LONDON, March 9 (AP) — Twelve thousand Soviet citizens perished in a German concentration camp near the town of Slavyta in the Kamenets area which has been reconquered by the Red army, the Soviet Information Bureau said today.

HERO FATHER OF 10 FETED IN MEDFORD

Medford friends and neighbors today planned a round of parties to honor Col. John J. Carew, whose unannounced return to his George st. home for a reunion with his wife and eight of their 10 children, spoiled plans for the tremendous ovation scheduled for his expected arrival tomorrow.

Col. Carew, former sealer of weights and measures in Medford, is a hero of both World Wars. He wears the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star with oak leaf cluster, and a British citation for operations in New Guinea.

This is his first visit home in two years, during which he served all through the Buna campaign and other Sixth Army assignments under Gen. Walter Krueger. He described the Japs as "tough scrappers," and cautioned that "we don't want to underestimate their ability as soldiers."

Col. Carew had high praise for the Greater Boston boys serving with the 32d Division in the Pacific.

One of them is Sergt. Charles B. Gray, before the war an instructor at Browne and Nichols School. He didn't look like a hero, but he won a DSC.

Nine Greater Boston men in all in the 32d won the DSC—highest award the nation has to offer a soldier, except the Congressional Medal of Honor—while Col. Carew was its commander.

All that is behind him now, possibly for good. After a month's fete, Col. Carew's new station will be Camp Claybourne, Ia., though he still "hopes to get a crack at another theater."

Stalin's Despotism Revealed by Briton

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, March 9—Soviet Russia is seething under the despotism of Josef Stalin, with 10,000,000 to 18,000,000 Russians sentenced to labor camps for political offenses.

Stalin, despite Russia's extreme economic distress, is master of the Red army and plans to "unmake" Germany and then reshape her to the Communist model.

This picture of "The Real Russia," culled from the authoritative British magazine "The Nineteenth Century and After," was introduced into the Congressional Record by Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D.) of Montana.

OFFICIAL ATTITUDE
The article was written by F. A. Voigt, editor of the magazine which generally reflects the attitude of the British foreign office.

In his naked analysis of an ally, Voigt pulls no punches in pointing at Russia as the coming threat to the survival of the British empire.

Describing the traditional British policy of sustaining a "balance of power" on the continent as the desire of Britain "not to be dominated," the editorial adds:

"All other European powers are secure if the armed might of the Germans is broken and remains broken. Only Germany can threaten Russia or France—from no other power have they anything to fear."

"But England could be threatened by any continental great power or coalition of powers."

"To the Russian," it continues, "the Germans are a nation to be unmade—and then to be remade and shaped to serve the Russian national resolve."

"The power of the Russian State has three main foundations: the N. K. W. D. (the secret police, formerly the O. G. P. U.), the armed forces and the labor camps. The latter are an institution unique in the modern world."

POLITICAL OFFENSES

"They are made up of men and women (chiefly men) who have been sentenced to detention in a labor camp for some real or alleged political offense. The usual sentence is eight years. But as the sentence can be automatically renewed, the victim has little, if any, hope of returning to the community."

"Millions of Russian subjects have been deported from one part of the Soviet Union to another," it was stated. "There has been a mass-deportation of Ukrainians to Siberia."

"While his domestic problems are accumulating, Stalin has succeeded in making himself the master of the Red army."

Boston Navy Yard To Get 4th 'E' Star

Rear Adm. Edward L. Cochrane, chief of the bureau of ships, and Charles L. Brand, head of the bureau's shipbuilding division, are scheduled to attend ceremonies Sunday at Charlestown, and at the naval drydock in South Boston when the fourth star for the Boston Navy Yard's Army-Navy "E" award is dedicated.

Announcement of the award, equivalent of a fifth "E" pennant, was made by Rear Adm. R. A. Theobald, yard commandant.

Psychoed!

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)

—An Army psychiatrist's eyes lighted up when he noted that a draftee, taking his pre-induction examination, was an automobile salesman.

"Maybe you're the man who can help me, I've been looking for a good used car," said the doctor.

"Are you crazy?" retorted the selectee.

The psychiatrist quickly changed his expression, said stiffly: "I'm supposed to ask the questions."

14 TAX TO BOOST LIQUOR PRICE 75 CTS. QUART

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., MARCH 9, 1944

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new excise taxes will hike the retail price of bottled liquor as much as 75 cents a quart beginning April 1, the Office of Price Administration (OPA) announced. The tax base will rise to $9 per 100 proof gallon from the present $6.

The 75 cent top boost will be added to the present ceiling price for 100-proof quarts of whiskey, gin, brandy, rum and all other alcoholic distilled spirits, with the increase proportionately less for lower-proof liquors and smaller-sized bottles. The tax on an 86.8 proof fifth, for example, will go up 52 cents.

Typical of the additions for wine are a five-cent hike for a quart with 15 to 21 per cent alcoholic content, while champagnes, sparkling and carbonated wines will be increased by 16 cents for a 26-ounce bottle and eight cents for a 13-ounce bottle.

The new tax applied to beer will mean an increase of only a fraction of a cent a bottle, OPA said.

Policy regarding addition of the excise tax to the price of liquor, wine and beer sold by the drink will be announced later.

For bottled distilled spirits, the additional tax at retail:

Seventy-five cents for a quart and 60 cents for a fifth of 100-proof, 65 and 54 cents for 90-proof, 65 and 52 cents for 80 and 86-proof, 64 and 51 cents for 80-proof, 61 and 48 cents for 80 and 86-proof, 53 and 42 cents for 70-proof, and 45 and 36 cents for 60-proof.

North Quincy Girl, 14, Killed by Truck

En route to her classes in North Quincy High School, Claire Duggan, 14, of Hurlbrook rd., Montclair, was killed today when she was struck by a truck as she crossed Hancock st., directly in front of the school, at East Squantum st.

Police said the truck was moving alongside a Boston-bound trolley car. The truck, which police said was operated by Albert L. Gifford, Jr., of Clapp st., Dorchester, toppled on its side when the driver swerved in an effort to avoid the accident.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bandits' Cab Hunted In Somerville Grab

Police searched Greater Boston today for a stolen taxicab believed to have been used in the $650 holdup of the Clinton Clothing Mfg. Co., Middlesex ave., Somerville, during the night.

Two gunmen, posing as passengers, entered the taxi on Massachusetts ave., North Cambridge, and ordered the driver, Joseph Richards, 31, of Michigan ave., Dorchester, to drive to a street in South Medford, where he was robbed of his machine and $15.

A few minutes later, two men of the same description, each carrying a gun, held up Clarence Higgins, 62, night manager of the clothing concern, and two salesmen. While one bandit kept the three men covered, his accomplice scooped $650 from the cash register.

Both men displayed bold confidence. One tossed a quarter on the floor, telling Higgins it was "for carfare"; then he came back from the door, picked up the coin and said: "No, on second thought, I guess I'll take it."

They also asked one of the clothing company employees if he did any work in the "big house," referring to State Prison, and the salesman replied that he had done some tailoring there at night. "I thought so," one gunman said as he and his accomplice walked out.

Willkie Opens N. H. Campaign

CONCORD, N. H., March 9 (AP)—Wendell Willkie declared today that the America of the future could be the greatest in history if it effects "abandonment of narrow nationalistic policies" and shows "real and tangible co-operation among the nations."

The 1940 Republican presidential candidate, in an address prepared for the 40th annual meeting of the New Hampshire Good Roads Ass'n, said the "initiative and the self-reliance and the character of our individual citizens... can find a fruitful field for operation only in the unlocking of America's economic doors."

The New Hampshire primaries on Tuesday will produce the first test of strength in the nation between Willkie and Gov. Thomas F. Dewey of New York in the election of delegates to the national Republican convention.

Seeks Combat Pay Rise

The Subsidy Showdown

THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, which has been frustrated by Presidential vetoes on both occasions, will soon have a further and perhaps final opportunity to accomplish its purpose.

On the two previous occasions, the food subsidy ban was in the form of amendment to legislation renewing the Commodity Credit Corporation, a Federal agency which commands high regard and strong support in Congress.

President Roosevelt was alert to this situation and quick to take advantage of it.

The President also had a high regard for the Commodity Credit Corporation, but by vetoing the legislation renewing it with the subsidy ban as a rider he was able to compel Congress to re-enact the renewal without the subsidy ban.

Thus the thing upon which the President and Congress were agreed was done, while the will of the President prevailed above the will of Congress in the matter upon which they were not agreed.

However, an entirely different situation will confront the President on the next occasion when Congress presents him with an anti-subsidy measure.

That occasion must arise before June 30, when the present Price Control Act will expire.

If Congress makes the subsidy ban a part of the renewed Price Control Act, as the majorities in both houses are determined to do, the President will be compelled to weigh his veto against the fact that it may make him responsible for the shattering of the whole price control structure.

His veto would of course be written with the intent of killing the subsidy ban, and with the expectation that Congress would then re-enact the Price Control Act renewal without the subsidy prohibition, as it did on two occasions with the Commodity Credit Corporation Bill.

But the attitude of Congress toward the Price Control Act as a whole is vastly different than its attitude toward the Commodity Credit Corporation.

There is a strong feeling in Congress that the Price Control Act should not be renewed at all without two essential changes, both of which the President violently opposes.

One of these essential changes is the provision against subsidies.

The other is a provision for court review of price ceilings and other regulations fixed by the Office of Price Administration.

Both of these provisions are essential and vital safeguards of the interests of the American people, as their experience with the Price Control Act proves.

CONGRESS KNOWS what the experience of the people has been, and what their present wishes are.

Congress had a special opportunity during the holiday adjournment to find out what the people were thinking about food subsidies and the Price Administration in general.

The holiday recess came AFTER the first vote by Congress to ban subsidies.

On the basis of what Congress learned from the people, it voted the subsidy ban a second time—fully persuaded of public approval.

Heretofore, the President has succeeded in maintaining his subsidy program and other objectionable and harmful practices of the Office of Price Administration against overwhelming majorities in Congress and against public interest and opinion.

He has succeeded in this through the minorities marshaled in Congress to sustain his vetoes.

In other words, the subsidy program and the most objectionable and harmful policies of the whole price control program are being continued on the questionable and dangerous authority of MINORITY GOVERNMENT.

Congress at last has the opportunity to assert and sustain the authority of the Democratic AMERICAN principle of majority government, and should do so as a matter of patriotic responsibility and duty.

A Picture to See

"THE PURPLE HEART," a timely and informative motion picture currently showing in Boston, will make the Pacific War real to thousands of New Englanders.

It is a thoughtfully presented and dramatically told story of eight American fliers forced down in Jap-controlled China after they had bombed Tokyo.

The heroic lads are taken by the puppet governor of the province to Japanese authorities who charged them with murder, "try" them before a civil "court" and refuse to accord them the treatment due prisoners of war.

Each scene puts new meaning into the War Department's recent revelations concerning the frightful cruelties perpetrated on American soldiers and civilians in the Philippines.

And through the whole picture runs the glory of dauntless America—the America that bestows the Purple Heart and the worthiness of the men who receive it.

We do not know how long "The Purple Heart" will remain in Boston. But we hope it will stay a sufficient number of weeks to permit every person in this important war production area to see it at least once.

A SUBSCRIBER requested "a brief and affectionate poem" to send to a man she loves "until it hurts." Trust the above will be satisfactory. We can also recommend for the purpose Christiana Rossetti's: "For one man is my world; of all the men this wide world holds: O Love, my world is you." ... Am asked if I get much V-mail. Am proud to state I receive hundreds of letters from men in our fighting forces. Today I received one from Lieut. J. M. Baldwin, Jr., formerly of Pittsburgh. Says the lieutenant in part: "It may interest you to know I read your column while returning from the invasion of Sicily. So you see your column really gets around."

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The most trying of wives, even harder on the nerves than the nagging wife, is the tearful, little earful type of matrimonial mate. The kind of women who pampers little griefs. This observation is from our Horses & Women Bureau File No. 1892J. ... Note Bob Hope named as America's No. 1 comedian. Maybe he is. But I like Jimmy Durante better. After Jimmy, give me Bobby Clark and Joe E. Lewis. ... Says U. S. Army chaplain Maj. John Jarrenton: "A woman whose husband is overseas weeding through hell, sweat and blood who is playing around with another man is the lowest thing I know. And the next lowest thing is the man who plays around with her."

OLD KENTUCKY: Kentucky produces 48 per cent of the nation's hard liquor. Nevertheless, 78 of Kentucky's 120 counties have gone dry through local option. So, surprising as it seems there are a lot of places in the Blue Grass State where you can't get a drink of bourbon or a mint julep either in times of peace or war.

HORSES: In London, several men were arrested charged with "conspiring to defraud by administering drugs to racing dogs." The charge further stated drugging a racing dog was defrauding people who wagered on the event, in which said dog was entered. In this country if a man drugs a race horse he usually suffers only a suspension of his turf activities. Yet to drug a race horse is a criminal offense in the United States. It is about time some of these dopers of thoroughbreds were tossed in jail. A series of experiments conducted a few years ago revealed the doping of a horse can improve his speed by as much as 27 lengths in a mile race.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—As to "Nero fiddled while Rome burned," isn't it a fact the violin was not yet invented in Nero's time? A—Nero plays a Roman fiduciae while Rome burned. This was an instrument somewhat similar to a guitar. From it the violin was developed. Therefore you are not far wrong when you say Nero "fiddled while Rome burned." ... Q—I have bet 20 pounds (about $64.60) that the expression "aren't I" is not good English. How about it? This query is from an outfit fighting in the Pacific. Mention the "germites of Guinea" in answering. A—You win. Much interested in what you fellows in New Guinea are betting your money on. Also, in the statement that 20 pounds is only worth $64.60.

BLACK MARKET: American housewives are paying a billion a year to black market operators. So states a government official. If that is true, the housewives so doing should be ashamed of themselves. A buyer in a black market is as bad as a seller. Both are traitors and blockers of the war effort. Why not put some teeth in the law as it refers to buyers in a black market?

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Wednesday—We left Miami early Monday morning and fortunately had a most beautiful day for the flight to Guantanamo. The sea was blue and green beneath us and little white clouds cast their shadows in the water. It seemed no time before we were flying over land again and Cuba lay below us.

It was interesting to see the many little houses which dotted the hills, and I could not help wondering how the people made a living or ever got in to the centers of population. There seemed to be only little trails winding up and down the hills. There might be patches of green around or near the houses.

GUANTANAMO IS RINGED by hills, and is, of course, a very finished base. The one great hardship for the men in this area is to be without their families or unable to go home on leave when they see planes flying in and out every day. The war, instead of coming closer, is receding.

We in the United States can be very grateful that in this area they fought the war so well that it is no longer considered to be a very active danger zone. We must keep watch, and that watch is never relaxed day or night.

A GREAT EFFORT IS BEING made by the commanding officers everywhere to see that the men on duty here have as much recreation as possible. If they cannot get to the nearby towns, much is provided on the bases. I am much interested in the post exchange shops, because the American man is not concerned only with what he can buy for himself, but is much concerned with what he can send home to the ladies of his family. You can find silk stockings at $3 a pair, perfume and ladies' underwear and many other gifts in the servicemen's post exchange.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 9—"Mildred Pearce," all renovated, streamlined and with a snow-white bill of health, has so pleased Joan Crawford that she has consented to make it for Warners.

Now, here is the inside of the "Never Goodbye" story which Eddie Goulding has been whipping into shape for months: Joan was perfectly willing to make the picture and the Warners wanted her, but when it was finally written the man's part turned out to be the lead.

Walter Huston was engaged and Joan Crawford was engaged and Joan agreed with the studio that it was not her "dish of tea." So now that's that. While I cannot say that Eddie, whose ideas are so numerous, may rewrite it, so far it's a starting vehicle for Huston.

CONNIE MOORE, back from the big town, is full of pep and happy as a lark over Dwight Dillard's plan to resurrect "The Pink Lady" for her. Wiman put on "By Jupiter," in which Connie scored a hit. "The Pink Lady" was produced 33 years ago by Klaw and Erlanger at the New Amsterdam Theater. I am merely telling you what was told me because, although I have been writing movie news for 30 years, I was not in New York when it reached the stage and I never saw it. I do remember, however, and probably you, too, my young friends, the show's hit song, "Beautiful Lady," sung by Hazel Dawn.

ONE OF THE BEST musicals I've seen—and I mean ever—is "Cover Girl." I had heard plenty of raves, but for once here is a movie that lives up to everything said about it. M-G-M is plenty lucky to have Gene Kelly under contract. He'll be worth a fortune to them after this Columbia hit.

ANNA LEE got in from Reno this morning with her divorce decree from Robert Stevenson in one hand and a contract for the femme lead in "Broadway With Two Yanks" in the other. Anna certainly should know how a gal goes about being a hit with our Yank soldiers, for she was overseas four months singing and dancing for them. Instead of North Africa, the setting for "Broadway With Two Yanks" is Australia, with Anna as the Australian charmer with two beaux—Bill Bendix and Dennis O'Keefe. John Loder, Hedy Lamarr's husband, was also signed for a role in this opus.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: All the glory in the Irving Berlin family isn't going to rest entirely on the famous song writer's shoulders. Mrs. Berlin, Ellen to those of us who knew and love her, has just written a book called "This Land I Love." Doubleday, Doran and Co. are bringing it out in April.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Mickey Rooney passed his physical and will soon be working for Uncle Sam; have been trying to check that a well-known New York actress has been detained at Ellis Island because of her pro-German conversation; Baron Gilbert Rothschild is here on a furlough and he doesn't deny he'll spend as much time with Veronica Lake as she permits; Helen Forrest and Eddie Hall have called off their engagement and she has handed back the ring; Joan McCracken, of the Oklahoma company, arrived here for Warner test; Jennifer Jones and her two children are sunning themselves in Palm Springs; Bruce Cabot writes from overseas telling about Joe E. Brown's great work. The letter, dated February 10, so it doesn't look as if Bruce has been in any trouble; Jack Buettel back in Hollywood for the first time since he entered the Navy.

NEW YORK, March 9—Mrs. Gene Kelly is ailing. Ruth Hildarditz, Jimmy's almost-ex, will wait down the aisle with Norman Hancock when the final papers arrive. Errol Flynn and Mary Ann Hyde are delicious. Carol Marcus Saroyan has decided to stay in N. Y. with Bill's family. The Freddie Mandels, of the Chicago department store clan, are calling it a day. The late Edgar Selwyn's will will be subject of a legal controversy. Carol Truitt's assignment to film "Carmen Jones" for the troops overseas has been halted by union trouble. They say Allan Bloomfield really is smitten with Luc Andrews. June Robbins, the former Eddy Duchin singer, is a plucky victim.

ALFRED HITCHCOCK is scheduled to make a series of pictures in England—to be distributed to the underground movements in occupied Europe. Reports from the Bahamas say that Prince Bishou, once the town's leading playboy, has taken up religion in a big way. Intimates hear Artie Shaw has been honorably discharged from the Navy. Those in the know are giggling over Ben Hecht's new serial. The allegedly fictional agent is so recognizable! One of the leading plane companies in the East lopped more than 2500 employees off the payroll in the past two weeks. Pinky Tomlin, the songwriter, and Ann Savage, the Columbia starlet, are a heart today. Lucille (Mrs. Jimmy) Gleason will run for the State Legislature in California. The Jean Herscholt's act isn't so.

IRINA BARONOVA, one of the hits of "Follow the Girls," is becoming a U. S. citizen. Marine John Monks (the co-authored "Brother Rat" with Fred Finklehoffe) is seriously ill in the South Pacific. Tropical fever. Xavier Cugat and John Mitchell are every nightingale. Despite rumors about Radio row, Bert Wheeler will continue with the Frank Sinatra show. Eleanor Powell's ill health is delaying her overseas tour. One of the radio's biggest musical shows changes to variety format in 30 days. Paula Kelly leaves the Modernaires to lullaby. Connie Boswell goes into the Roxey at the highest salary ever paid a femme singer there.

HOLLYWOOD, March 9—Veronica Lake and Paul Hesse together at the Schwabacher. Errol Flynn and John Decker are opening an art gallery on the Strip, and so if Flynn asks you to see his paintings he isn't fooling. Noel Coward is trying to buy back the playlets of "Tonight" from Metro, as he wants to make them into movies himself. Robert Hillyer, the Pulitzer Prize poet, is the house guest of Gene Fowler. Phyllis Brooks Stevens may be in charge of photographing the European invasion. Paramount is already considering entering "The Hitler Gang" as a documentary rather than "entertainment" in the Academy competition. Phyllis Brooks and Lieut. Truman Davis are a thing. Warner received a letter from a Granite, Okla., exhibitor regarding "Destination Tokyo." It reads: "A great war picture, but bad weather kept the cameras away. I could just as well pleased if you would send us a picture not so good, but better weather."

JULIE BISHOP and Lieut. Glenn Shahan have been doing the town together. "Cover Girl" was previewed at the Pantages and the enthusiasm was similar to the opening of a Broadway musical. In fact, if it had been on the stage, Rita Hayworth and Gene Kelly would have been called upon for encores. It is the best musical in years, and Kelly's "alter ego" dance is one of the finest things ever done in a screen musical. Arthur Murray was disappointed in the Academy awards, for he believes that the Sinatra fans should have received the award for the best performance of the year.

HEDY LAMARR has moved her portable dressing room from Metro to the set of "The Conspirators" at Burbank. Maria Cuspenskaya is being considered for a role in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." Ben Hecht may produce his "Miracle in the Rain" for United Artists. The "Helleat News," published at Camp Barkeley, Tex., has, as its editorial for the week column, nothing but a picture of Evelyn Ankers in a swimming suit.

DANNY KAYE, and not Bob Hope, appears to be the likely candidate to play in Sam Goldwyn's "Treasure Chest." Humphrey Bogart was telling how the G.I.'s baffle M.P.'s in restricted zones after curfew hours. In the Middle East, no Military Policeman is allowed to lift an Arab lady's veil, so the boys drape themselves in sheets and veils, and ramble where they please.

Power of Investigation 19

By George E. Sokolsky

THE PRINCIPAL POWERS of the Congress are to legislate for the people and to appropriate funds for the operations of government. The President has no power of legislation or appropriation except as instructed by Congress within specific limitations. The Supreme Court has no power of legislation except by the usurpation of function. This is orderly constitutional government. No emergency can replace the Constitution.

To legislate and appropriate, Congress must possess information. This is provided in formal reports made by administrative agencies and by investigations conducted by committees of Congress into the affairs of the nation. No subject is beyond the investigating power of Congress.

In recent months, officers of the government, including James L. Fly of the FCC, J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, Secretary of the Agriculture Wickard, Jonathan Daniels of the President's staff and others, have refused to provide Congress with necessary information usually on the ground that the President had instructed them to withhold such information. The President possesses no such power. When, as in the Jonathan Daniels case, it comes to a showdown, the President naturally backed down. For be it noted that according to the Constitution, the Congress can and may impeach the President, but the President has no authority over Congress except to veto bills which Congress may pass over his veto. The center of authority in this country is Congress, whenever it asserts its powers to the full.

THE ISSUE here is again, as with so much of the New Deal, orderly government. The President issues instructions which are not based upon the Constitution or acts of Congress. These instructions or executive orders are his private opinion and have no force in law except as there is no resistance to them. Once resistance appears, the matter becomes a question of due process of the law.

For instance, when J. Edgar Hoover testified that he possessed the information desired by a Congressional committee and could give it to the committee but would not on instruction of his superior, the Attorney-General of the United States who was acting on behalf of the President—a principle was asserted that the President may at will and according to his judgment set aside the Constitution, the statutes of Congress and the decisions of the court.

Under the law as declared in McGraw V. Daugherty everyone must surrender his person and his papers to the demands of a Congressional subpoena, when pertinently required; it is not the law that bureau rulers with their papers and their clerks in Washington are set up as a class apart and exempted from a process that runs generally throughout the land.

IN THE Jonathan Daniels case, the Senate prepared to cite him for contempt and he agreed, by advice of the President, to testify. That was face-saving. The President's advice had nothing to do with the case. Jonathan Daniels testified because he was wrong in refusing to testify and because he must have been told by whatever counsel he consulted that the matter is so clear that an appeal would not stand up in the courts unless the courts wished to abridge the powers of Congress to legislate. If Congress determined to cite every official for contempt who declined to obey its summons and answers, the legislation, pertinent to forthcoming legislation, there would be no further sabotage of Congress by the bureaucracy. In a final test, the power is with Congress; it can abolish the job by withholding funds for its conduct.

The secrecy attending operations of our government currently is being attributed to "the national interest." But is the secrecy in the national interest? Is the secrecy about our commitments at Tehran in the national interest? Surely Germany knows what they are by now from the course of events, if nothing else. But no official, authoritative statement has been made to the American people with the formality that alone provides assurance as to the truth, namely, by a report from the President to the Congress—a procedure customary in the United States since Washington spoke the first inaugural. Will it be necessary for Congress to make an investigation concerning this, too?

Experts Cite U. S. Jury Rule In Noxon Case

Legal observers, interested today in the situation caused by the illness of a juror at the Noxon death trial at Pittsfield, found that under federal rules of procedure it is provided that alternate jurors may be selected and used if necessary.

At present there is actually a federal court case being tried here in which two such alternate jurors are sitting.

In the Noxon case, however, Judge Pinanski said he found himself confronted with a 1929 State statute prohibiting a defendant from waiving a jury in the first degree murder indictment.

There was a consequent thin line, Judge Pinanski said, as to whether such defendant might legally waive his right to have his fate determined by other than a full jury of 12 men.

In federal jurisdiction, the Federal Rules of Provisions Procedure provide:

"Whenever, in the opinion of a judge of a court of the United States about to try a defendant against whom has been filed any indictment, the trial is likely to be a protracted one, the court may cause an entry to that effect to be made in the minutes of the court, and thereupon, immediately after the jury is impaneled and sworn, the court may direct the calling of one or two additional jurors, in its discretion, to be known as alternate jurors.

"Such jurors must be drawn from the same source, and in the same manner, and have the same qualifications as the jurors already sworn, and be subject to the same examination and challenges:

HAVE EQUAL POWER
"Provided, that the prosecution shall be entitled to one, and the defendant to two, peremptory challenges to such alternate jurors. Such alternate jurors shall be seated near, with equal power and facilities for seeing and hearing the proceedings in the case, and shall take the same oath as the jurors already selected and must attend at all times upon the trial of the cause in company with the other jurors.

"They shall obey the orders of and be bound by the admonition of the court upon each adjournment of the court; but if the regular jurors are ordered to be kept in custody during the trial of the cause, such alternative jurors shall also be kept in confinement with the other jurors and, except as hereinafter provided, shall be discharged upon the final submission of the case to the jury. "If before the final submission of the case, a juror dies, or becomes ill, so as to be unable to perform his duty, the court may order him to be discharged and draw the name of an alternate, who shall then take his place in the jury box, and be subject to the same rules and regulations as though he had been selected as one of the original jurors."

The report to him on the condition of Juror Cullen was signed by three physicians, Dr. John Roe, Dr. Harry H. Bard and Dr. Wilfred A. Millet, jail physician. Bard and Millet first examined the nerve-wracked juror. He then asked to be examined by Roe.

Noxon, talking to the press for the first time since he was arrested, said he was sorry about the trial's outcome. He said:

"I am disappointed that a mistrial had to be called. I had hoped to be back soon with my wife and (other) son, cleared of this charge."

Troops, Army Band In So. Boston Parade

By special permission of President Roosevelt, regular Army troops and an Army band will add military color to the Evacuation Day parade in South Boston next week.

War Department officials at first had said it would be impossible to arrange for regular Army participation in the parade, but Cong. John W. McCormack appealed to the President and received an O. K.

SOUR TASTE IN MOUTH? BELCHING? GAS PAINS? LIVER, INTESTINAL IRRITATIONS? ON A COLITIS OR ULCER DIET?

Try FOR AMAZING RELIEF WITH FENUGREEK TEA

FENUGREEK TEA IS A NATURAL HERB — NOT A DRUG!

FENUGREEK is a wonderful herb before meals (and upon retiring) has given results to many. This mixes with the food when other methods failed. It in one's stomach, thus helping to eliminate the poisons that foster stomach troubles. It acts quickly to stop gas pains, sourness and this very delicious tea is taken belching. It is not a laxative.

The stomach itself is a series of small pits. Irritations arise in these pits, often causing serious disorders. The regular use of Fenugreek Tea will help to eliminate these irritations.

Headaches, backaches and that third-of-the-morning often caused by toxic poisons that enter the blood stream because of indigestion in the intestinal tract. Fenugreek Tea helps.

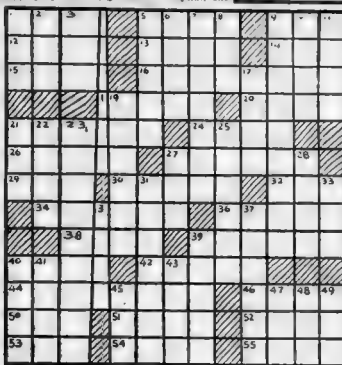

The liver, when sluggish and inactive, slows down the "bile flow" causing headaches and lack of energy. Instead of sleep comes "bitter" sleep. Fenugreek Tea — it's a natural herb product!

Impurities (acid and alkaline deposits) in the system are common causes of rheumatic and neuritic pains and general physical debility. 15 miles of tubing form the kidneys. Try Fenugreek Tea!

2-Cent Mail Rate To End March 26

Higher postal rates, effective March 26, require first class mail to carry a 3-cent stamp even for local delivery, postoffice officials reminded today. Letters mailed on or after that day with 2-cent stamps will be returned to senders, they cautioned.

Increases in air mail rates, from 6 to 8 cents for each ounce or less, also become effective the same date along with increases on parcel post, insurance of parcels, money orders and registered mail. There will be no increase in postal rates to members of the armed forces overseas.

Zoup's On, Lady

By MARTHA LEE

ONE OF THE NICER of old-fashioned, chilly-day customs is the serving of thick soup with sliced meat and crackers. It's a home custom being revived to use low-point meats and meaty soup bones.

For a special dish, you might simmer a ham shank with split peas. When the ham is cooked, slice the extra meat and keep hot until ready to serve. Slivers of ham that remain in the soup will add extra flavor. Crisp crackers add a fresh note.

Try one of the following recipes for a satisfying meat soup:

SPLIT PEA SOUP WITH HAM

1½ cups dried split peas
8 cups cold water
1 sliced medium onion
½ tsp. celery salt
2 tbsp. lard ½ tsp. pepper
Ham shank 1 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. salt 2 cups milk

Soak dried peas overnight in 2 cups of the cold water. Drain. Sauté onion until tender in 1 tablespoon lard or ham fat. Add ham shank, drained peas, celery salt, salt, pepper and the remaining 7 cups of cold water. Cover, bring to a boil, and simmer gently for 2 hours. Remove ham bone and slice meat. Make a thin white sauce by adding flour to the remaining tablespoon of lard in the top of a double boiler. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly for about 10 minutes. Combine with soup, heat well, and serve with meat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BEEF SHANK AND BARLEY SOUP

2 lbs. beef shank
2 cups water ½ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. salt ½ tsp. cayenne
1-3 cup diced celery
1-3 cup julienne carrots
1-3 cup onions, chopped
2 tbsp. parsley, chopped
1 qt. soup stock (or beef bouillon) 3 tbsp. barley
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Add water and seasonings to beef shank and simmer about 2 hours or until tender. Pick meat from bones and return meat to stock. Add vegetables, soup stock and barley. Simmer 25 to 30 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and serve. Makes 5 servings.

SCOTCH SOUP

1½ lbs. lamb neck with bones
2 potatoes, sliced
1 qt. cold water 4 carrots, diced
2 onions, sliced 2 tsp. barley
Salt and pepper to taste
Put lamb neck in stew kettle and add cold water. Simmer for several hours. One hour before serving, remove bones and add potatoes, onions, carrots, barley and seasonings. Thicken with flour and cold water mixture if desired. Parsley or celery may be added. Makes 1½ quarts.

OXTAIL SOUP

1 oxtail 2 cups water
Flour ½ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. fat ½ tsp. cayenne
3 allspice berries
1-3 cup diced celery
1-3 cup diced carrot
1-3 cup chopped leeks or onion
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 qt. soup stock (or beef bouillon)

½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Wash oxtail and cut in small pieces; roll in flour and sauté in fat in deep saucepan. Add water and seasonings, and boil 10 minutes; remove scum, cover and simmer for 2 to 3 hours, or until tender. Drain, pick meat from bones and return meat to stock; add vegetables and soup stock, bring to a boil and simmer 20 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and serve very hot. Makes 1½ quarts soup.

'Make Your Manners'

Manners are made, not born. So it's you who can choose the fabric and fashion the pattern of your manners. And this becomes the "basic dress" of your personality. Then add becoming accessories, the graces and amenities of life.—MRS. BEECKMAN.

PERISH THE THOUGHT... if you ever had one... that grey is not your color. Toss away any silly notion that it devitalizes your skin-tone into ashen drabness... for nothing could be more unfair to you or the color... if you wear grey the new cosmetic way. To be fashionably smart this spring... you'll simply have to go grey to be part of the big spring fashion news this year. It is the high-style member of a whole new and exciting family of neutral tones... ranging from pure grey to a delightfully snoky-beige that is not romantic. Grey looks decidedly fresh and new among the riot of bright high colors for the new season... and you must tone your face to meet the new style decree. There is nothing difficult about the procedure... simply highlight your complexion with a new, radiant foundation... created especially for greys... and it will enhance... beyond wildest dreams... the costume color you thought you couldn't wear.

BOOSTS YOUR GLAMOUR

Such is the fantasy and feasibility of cosmetics... charmed into significance by the beauty know-hows... to skyrocket your glamour to the front ranks of the spring parade... which this year promises to be REALLY SOMETHING.

This radiant foundation... a town and country makeup film... is a must for every type of skin or coloring. The slightest hint of this creamy, light-as-a-puff foundation leaves your face satiny smooth and warmly toned. Truly, it makes your skin "come alive"... as if a radiant veil had transformed drabness to a vibrant warmth.

There are three gorgeous shades of this makeup film... peach-bloom for the pearly pink tones of the fair-skinned blonde... mauve-ecru for the brunette with warm beige tones in her skin... and rice tan to dramatize the sun-burned complexion.

WONDERFUL FOUNDATION

What a setting is staged by this wonderful foundation... for your individualized beauty routine of clinging powder... lipstick in the correct vibrant shade with rouge to harmonize... nail grooming and extra-glamorous touch of eye shadow and mascara.

Fresh as a rose... your radiant face now tops your monotone suit... like a thrilling flower on its stem. All eyes will be focused on your face... for you will look younger, prettier... your new grey costume will seem the most exciting thing you've ever worn.

For grey... or any monotone or neutral shade... can be the most flattering of the whole color spectrum... provided you abide by the secret of wearing a beaming, bright, radiant-right foundation.

Fashion

YOUR SKIN WILL COME ALIVE... as if a radiant veil had transformed drabness to a vibrant warmth... if you use a new foundation as a base of a vivid makeup for the MUST gray suit for spring. Fresh as a rose... your beaming face will be like a flower on a stem... with this light-as-a-puff makeup film. Universal Star Maria Montez poses.

tion as the base of a vivid makeup.

Spring Weather Is Tricky

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE March breed of weather has always been a trial and tribulation to girls who love to look their best at all times. And I note that many of the ladies who start out looking simply beautiful in brave spring clothes end looking like stormbeaten flowers after about 10 minutes of exposure to our March weather.

Others, who go out grimly prepared in their "idiot" clothes... look completely dull and uninspiring. I think there is a happy medium way of dressing these days, so that you can stand up to the climate and not be wrecked, and so you can still look mighty sweet and pleasant.

There's no use pretending that you can ignore bad weather and wear fragile clothes. You must wear sturdy clothes, but they can look dainty and well-groomed, and you can have some pretty color to them. Color often looks best in gray, rainy weather.

Smart Set Debs Popular

By BETTY ALDEN

IN THESE DAYS of a shortage of beaux older gals envy their deb and sub-deb sisters who are contemporaries of all the R.O.T.C.'s and V-12's at Harvard. In fact some debs, like Elizabeth Winsor, are so pretty and vivacious they often seem to have their own private stag line.

The other evening "Deedee" arrived for dancing at the Copley Plaza Oval Room with three Harvardians and to show she has no favorite among the armed services one was in Navy blue, one in khaki and the other in mufti. For her triple-header date the pretty blonde wore a flame sheer wool.

Mary Lou Ward, who is rehearsing by day for the Vincent show, had an attentive escort in Ensign Richard Wheatland, and looked very attractive in red and white polka dot crepe. Rose Gardner, who makes her debut Saturday at a dance with Jean Cochran, had an Oval Room date with Francis Gray, Jr. Sister-deb Joan Titcomb was squired by Roswell Perkins, also in Navy blue, and Barbara Hale, who promises to be one of the glamour girls of next year's deb group, was with Bill Midden-dor, Navy R. O. T. C. A pappy foursome included Sue Inches, Paul Brine, Joan Russell and George Bentley, and the newly engaged "Tarr" Simonds and Ned Bibelow, Nancy Webster, Harry Fowler, Jessie Richmond and Dave Moseley, were also in the merry throng of dancers.

WHEN the Monte Carlo Ballet stars landed in town post deb Nancy Stodder, who is studying portraiture, lost no time rushing up to the Opera House to sketch several of the ballerinas in graceful

| 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1/2 cup chopped nuts |
| 4 teaspoons Royal Cream of Tartar Baking Powder | 1 egg, beaten |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 3/4 cup milk |
| | 3 tablespoons honey |
| | 4 tablespoons melted fortified margarine |

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add nuts. To beaten egg add milk, honey and cooled, melted margarine. Add liquid mixture to dry ingredients, mixing quickly, just enough to dampen the flour. Half fill greased muffin pans. If desired, garnish top of each with a whole nut. Bake in moderately hot oven at 400° F. about 25 minutes. Makes 10 gloriously light and tender ROYAL muffins.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., MARCH 9, 1944

The rollicking robustness of Agnes de Mille's "Rodeo" ballet and the colorful symbolism of "The Red Poppy" were lively and thoroughly to the taste of an audience which Tuesday night viewed the first performances here by the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Although the program trudged off to a dreary start in a Bach etude with interpretive choreography by Bronislava Nijinska, it whirled about to the side of frank entertainment in latter numbers.

Particular stars of the evenings—as far as the crowd which filled every cranny of the Boston Opera House was concerned—were Frederick Franklin, who danced the Russian sailor's role in "The Red Poppy," and Dorothy Etheridge, who was the gauche and wistful little cowgirl in "The Poleson."

"The Red Poppy," composed by Igor Schwezoff to music by Reinhold Gliere, arranged by Arthur Cohn, is an adaptation of a Soviet pre-war political ballet, in which the plot has been jacked up and refurbished to tell a tale of joint Russian, Chinese, and Anglo-American resistance to Japanese aggression.

The limping symbolism and story are forgotten, however, in the kaleidoscopic variety of the dance scenes "The Red Poppy" offers, which range from the tawdry glitter of a waterfront dive through a poetic dream sequence to a final rousing episode on the docks.

Deadline Is Near In Oratory Test

Colleges which have not yet filed their entries in the John Paul Jones nation-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the Hearst newspapers, are urged to do so as soon as possible, the contest editor announced today.

Cambridge JVA Group Reports

The "Gore Victory" Corps of the Junior Victory Army, commanded by Louis J. Torino, East Cambridge, and captained by Daniel Pentinge, is one of the units that is consistently saving kitchen fat for Uncle Sam.

The regular report of Capt. Pentinge says the corps has also collected waste paper and other materials needed for war production. James DeMay and Theodore Lopresti are new members giving the corps a personnel of 16.

"Our corps is still busy on the home front," says the report, "doing everything possible to bring back our boys and a lasting peace."

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Friday's Daily Record.

Published daily except Sundays and holidays, 5 Winslow St., Boston 8, Mass., by The Hearst Corporation. Resident Vice-President, H. G. Kari; Resident Clerk, J. H. McCaffrey. Telephone Liberty 4000. Subscriptions by mail, prepaid, one month, 50c; Boston Postal Deposit, $750 per month. Foreign countries, $2.00 per month.

It was also requested that as soon as representatives of the various colleges and high schools have been chosen, their names be sent to the contest editor.

There isn't much time left now. March 31 is the date set for Boston's representatives in the Eastern zone finals to be chosen at Faneuil Hall, so the wheels must begin to turn.

$50 WAR BOND PRIZE

First prize winners in the city elimination contest at Faneuil Hall in both the college and high school groups will be sent to New York to compete with Baltimore, Albany and New York representatives in the Eastern zone finals. And in addition, will receive a $50 war bond.

Glittering prizes of twin sets of war bonds totaling $20,000 are offered as national awards. These are topped by a grand prize of $1000 for each division winner, plus trips to Washington and Annapolis.

Though a truly great and brave man, who fashioned a page for himself in America's history, John Paul Jones nevertheless was from that simple, homely fabric of many great men who breathe democracy and build republics.

COLORFUL MATERIAL

The career of this great patriot is replete with colorful, human material for scores of orations, and contestants should find in research a mine of fascinating facts and anecdotes.

Keep in mind that orations must be original and delivered without reference to notes; they must not exceed six minutes and the general subject is "John Paul Jones, American."

30 Jimmy Walsh's Replica, Says Morgan of Bartolo

By HUCK FINNEGAN

SAL BARTOLO is a disciple of the Jim Corbett school of boxing; Phil Terranova of the Jem Mace school. Consequently tomorrow night's world featherweight championship bout at Boston Garden will be a four-fisted, slam-bang battle that will keep fight addicts talking for months.

Who said so? Old Dan Morgan, tabbed "Dumb Dan" because he never missed a trick and because he never stops talking. Dan used to make a habit of managing world champions. His first was Frankie Mantell (1910) of Providence, who defeated Billy Papke at Oakland, Cal., in 20 rounds. His second was the immortal Jack Britton, his third Battling Levinsky, his last and least famous Al McCoy (not our Al) the "Cheese Champ." He handled dozens of other top-notchers, such as K. O. Brown and Eddie Fitzsimmons.

Old Dan, a "junior partner" on Bartolo's lengthy advisory staff, was discharging on "schools" this morning.

"Jem Mace kept moving forward, ready to hit and block. Terranova's of that stripe. He's a persistent two-handed hitter, for ever crowding his adversary, and he can take a punch without phoning his mother."

"Corbett was a master of hit, stop and getaway, a flash on his feet. That's Bartolo. A shifty, feinting boxer who knows when and how to hit, and who can hit from any angle. He can make an opening if one doesn't exist."

Dan sat back in his rocker, rolled his eyes ceilingward and reflected: "Know who he's a ringer for? Your Jimmy Walsh. Remember little Jimmy who used to whip Al Delmont regularly and who licked Abe Attell here in 1912? Well, Sal's the nearest thing to Jimmy Boston has produced in 20 years. Finnegan? Not the same type. A harder puncher than Bartolo but he didn't have Sal's speed of foot. Chapman, Fuller, Callahan? No. They were different types. Sal is Walsh all over again, with his footwork and feinting and his ability to hit with either hand. Oh, this is going to be a whizzer, another Walsh-Delmont, Walsh-Attell go. I wouldn't miss it for the world, nor would I dare try pick the winner."

"I'll Win," Says Sal

"THE WINNER will be Sal Bartolo," said Sal Bartolo as he stepped off the scales at Kelley and Hayes' gym. He tipped the beam at 126 pounds, exactly the weight he must make for the 15-round shindig. "I'm getting nothing out of this bout, nothing except the title," says Sal. Here's the set-up, according to Bartolo's advisory board: Sal is getting 55 per cent of the net gate, that is, after federal and state taxes and ring officials are paid. But he had to guarantee Terranova $12,500 to get him into the ring. Thus he'll actually lose money if the bout doesn't draw $25,000. Bartolo also had to post $5000 that he would meet Terranova in a return bout within 45 days, if he should win the title.

Bartolo scoffs at reports that making 126 pounds weakens him. "Truthfully, I was sick before my second bout with Pep. I had the grippe. Couldn't sweat. Left it all in bed. But I'm strong now. I won't let you down this time. A promise. . . . Gambling everything on a possibility of drawing a $150,000 gate with Willie Pep in Yankee Stadium next summer, Bartolo's board is wary of "Boston decisions." "We had Pep licked in our first bout here. Had him down in the sixth. But the only official who voted for us was a fellow from Springfield named Watson," said Trainer Freddie Brown. "Make those judges announce their findings round by round as they do in New York."

Bartolo has won nine straight since he lost to Pep at Braves Field last June 8, to wit: KO's over Lefty La Chance, 8; Hose Roze, 9; Billy Bates, 3; Jim O'Tash, 3. Decisions over Henry Vasquez, Frankie Rubino, Whistling Bill Roach, Bobby McIntyre and Aaron Seltzer. . . . Bartolo has been in the Maritime service five months, has fought out of New York for five years. . . . But he's an East Boston boy, born and bred, and hopes to join Boston's list of world champions which includes: John L. Sullivan, Jack Sharkey, Johnny Wilson, and (Worcester) Lou Brouillard. . . . Finnegan defeated world champion Andre Routis at the Garden opening in '28, but it was an overweight bout. . . . Terranova never has gone 15 rounds, a fact the Bartolo camp figures will be in their favor. . . . This will be the third feather title bout held in recent years. Others were Wilson-Callura, and Pep-Bartolo.

Waltham-N. Bedford Tops Garden Program

Now that the first day of the Tech Tourney is out of the way and the largest crowd to ever see basketball in Boston was on hand, it looks as though the game is definitely here to stay. The Hub had never seen such a demon-

Angott Loses N. B. A. Title To Mexican

HOLLYWOOD, March 9 (AP)—Discouraged by a split-decision loss to Luther (Sluggo) White here last summer and inability to get a lightweight championship bout, Juan Zurita returned to his native Mexico City, determined not to box in the United States again.

Today he holds the N. B. A. title. He whipped Sammy Angott last night in Hollywood.

Sammy lost, and he lost by a wide margin. After the first round, when Zurita seemed puzzled by the titleholder's style of attack, the Mexican settled down, took the aggressive and beat the Pennsylvania Italian to the punch through the next 14 rounds.

It was not an especially good fight and it wasn't Zurita's fault. Angott, clinched after nearly every lead, and in the infighting where usually he excels, he came out second best.

Zurita's southpaw stance kept Angott off balance. He blocked his left hooks and uppercuts, and countered with rights to the head and body.

Angott had some difficulty making the 135 pounds agreed upon and he looked somewhat drawn when he crawled through the ropes. Furthermore, he had been notified, only a few hours before, that he must take his pre-industry physical examination here today. His draft board had just reclassified him I-A. He is married and has two children.

The gross for last night's outdoor fight was $36,000, the net $31,000. Angott was guaranteed $17,500 and Zurita 17½ per cent of the net.

A clever boxer, although not a hard puncher, Zurita has met and beaten many runt ranking lightweights, but he always seemed a few steps away from the championship heights. He was a 4-to-1 underdog in the betting and many at the ringside were skeptical of his ability to go the full distance against Angott, who, although not an especially stiff socker, is pretty strong for a lightweight and at 30 well versed in all the tricks of the game.

Zurita conducted a gruelling conditioning program for the Angott fight and came up in peak physical condition. He weighed in at 133½ and instead of weakening in the later rounds, actually seemed to improve.

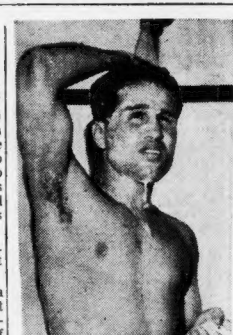

32 Varsity Events On Cornell Schedule

ITHACA, N. Y., March 9—A spring program of 32 varsity events including three crew races in which Navy and Columbia will afford the opposition was announced today by Robert J. Kane, acting director of athletics at Cornell.

The baseball team has a 12-game schedule that calls for double headers with Dartmouth, Columbia, Penn and Princeton, its Eastern Intercollegiate League rivals. Four track events, five lacrosse games and eight tennis matches have been carded also.

Leahy Waits Orders For Overseas Tour

NEW YORK, March 9 (INS)—Notre Dame Football Coach Frank Leahy was "awaiting orders" today to start a 90-day tour of the waterfront camps for the USO. Leahy will give sports talk to the servicemen and show movies of Notre Dame's 1943 games.

Jeffries at 68 Still Training

BURBANK, Cal., March 9 (AP)—James J. Jeffries, 68, husky former world's heavyweight champion and one of the dwindling tribe whose fame harks back to the era of iron-fisted fighters, is pugilism's man with the hoe.

A rancher now, Jeffries has neither forgotten nor discarded the prime element in his success formula—training. The ex-titleholder keeps in condition by cultivating the sizable victory garden on his acreage here.

Jeffries is convinced boxing's current specimens would be easy picking for the pugilists of his day. When Jeff was on his way up he thought nothing of 14 miles of roadwork a day.

Jim whipped Bob Fitzsimmons twice, the first time for the championship in 1899. He knocked out Jim Corbett twice. He effectively subdued Sailor Tom Sharkey and Gus Ruhlin among others.

Jeffries himself took a knockout—a technical knockout—but once, in 1910, five years after he had retired. He was 35 years old, weighed 285 pounds and had been ballyhooed into an ill-advised contest with Jack Johnson in Reno.

The championship came to Jeffries with a knockout win over Fitzsimmons in the eleventh round of a scheduled 25-round battle at Coney Island. Five months later he successfully defended the title against Sharkey. The bout was notable for its roughness and because it was so brilliantly lighted for movie cameras that both battlers lost their hair from the heat of the lamps.

Beasley Shifted

MEMPHIS, March 9 (AP)—Lieut. Johnny Beasley, 1942 World Series hero of the St. Louis Cardinals, will report to the Fourth Ferrying Group here today for temporary duty as athletic officer.

Sports Mirror

By the Associated Press
TODAY A YEAR AGO—Brooklyn traded Babe Dahlgren to Phillies for Al Glosop and Lloyd Waner.
THREE YEARS AGO—Commissioner K. M. Landis rescinded new waiver rule governing return of purchased players to minor leagues.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Patty Berg suffered first defeat of winter season in Belleair semifinals.

stration of enthusiasm as the school kids put on, regardless of whether their team was winning or not, and you can bet that the same fans were to be back today as Framingham and Belmont opened the day's activities.

Champion Lexington was to be defending its title against Braintree in the last half of the matinee performance and then the best fellows, Class A, take over at night.

Dark horse Waltham, undefeated so far this season—including its brilliant 35-26 victory over Brockton in the opening round of Garden play—tackles New Bedford at 8 p. m. in what should be easily the outstanding game of the semifinal rounds of both classes—then Medford tempts fate by tangling with Somerville.

TAKE NORTH QUINCY

Somerville, odds on favorite to capture the Class A flag, proved to the satisfaction of all that this season's record was no freak by the easy way it dispatched North Quincy from the running. Held to a slim lead in the first half over the South Shore team, the entire squad went wild in the final half and racked up 22 points with Tony Lavelli getting most of them.

Another factor in Somerville's favor in depth of capable substitutes. And Cronin certainly has them. While Medford, although a mighty little team, will have to depend largely on the form of Joe Giannelli and John Cannava.

Now that Jack Daniels' Framingham team got over its first hurdle, a tough one at that, little Provincetown, the B favorites ought to get going this afternoon against Belmont.

Trailing by a 26-14 count in the game against the Cape Codders, Daniels shifted his entire offense and set three men down under the basket with very satisfying results. If the strategy works again today, Bobby Quinn, the high scorer so far with 22 points, may set an all-time high for the Tech carnival. The Framingham forward was the outstanding man in the B division with his sharp-shooting.

SAVED BY DEFENSE

The one thing standing in Framingham's way is the Belmont defense that has already proven that it can cover its area and the best of them as newburyport will unhappily attest. When the North Shore team got hot and started to close in on Belmont, it was the defense that saved the game.

Although Quinn is easily the super star of Class B another boy to watch is Charley Carota of Lexington, who was the big factor in the Minute Men's triumph over Methuen. Carota seems to lack the fineness of Quinn under the basket but the way he sets up plays is a thing of beauty. But Carota will have to fight for honors in his game as Braintree has Bob Pryor and Bob Lang who accounted for 29 of their team's 50 points against Story.

If there were a prize for enthusiasm it would have to be awarded to Provincetown that went out in the first round by a one point loss to Framingham. Coach Dave Murphy brought only 10 men along with him but from the noise and cheers emanating from behind the Cape Cod bench, the entire winter population of the town must have made the trip.

As a reward for its fine showing, despite being beaten, Murphy and his whole squad are going to stay in the Hub until late tomorrow afternoon. They will be at the Garden all day and night and the team they want to see win is Framingham, the team that knocked them right out of the tourney. A nice gesture, isn't it?

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Service Boxers In Hub Amateurs

Amateur fight fans will recognize several favorites, now members of the armed forces who will be making a bid for New England titles in the series which starts Monday night at the Boston Arena.

Among the more popular is Tommy Luckman of Brockton, now stationed at Ft. Ruckman, who will appear in the 112-pound class. Tommy is an old contender for championship spangles and only missed his last two efforts by the slightest of margins.

Jimmy Griffin of Lowell in the 126-pound class will represent the U. S. Navy Ammunition Depot, Hingham and Sol Fichera of Revere who is scheduled in the 175-pound class for Ft. Banks.

Willie Jackson and Luther Hayward will represent the Hingham team in the heavyweight class. Other members on the Hingham team include Matt Less in the 135; Nat Buruss, Harvey Davis and Al McWright in the 147; Jim Adams and Claude Brown in the 160 and Leonard Siminon in the 175.

Ross Meets Taylor In Lowell Tonight

LOWELL, March 9—Andy Martin, the ex-feather and lightweight of Boston, is matchmaker of the new Olympic A. C., which has reorganized pro boxing at the Crescent rink here. Sam Price is promoter of the fight club.

Frankie Ross of Boston meets Jimmy Taylor of Lowell in tonight's welterweight main event, eight rounds. In the semi-final, Frankie MacDougall of Boston will oppose Mickey Page of Providence, a former Golden Glover remembered as Mike Panziera.

Stephens Rejected For Army Service

LONG BEACH, Cal., March 9 (AP)—Vernon Stephens, shortstop for the St. Louis Browns, said he was rejected for induction into the Army because of a bad knee.

Stephens, one of the American League's leading batters last year, said he already has received his contract from the Browns and is asking the club when to report.

Edward Wins 11th

CAMP EDWARDS, March 9 (AP)—The Camp Edwards basketball team won its 11th consecutive victory, defeating the Boston Navy Yard team, 44-34. The soldier team led all the way paced by Corp. Frank Seybolt of Cambridge with 21 points.

Anybody With Uniform Welcome at Yanks' Camp

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven more major league baseball players put their names on the dotted line of 1944 contracts, two more were given 4-F draft classifications, two others were called for preinduction physical examinations and Catcher Hal Wagner of the Philadelphia A's announced plans of becoming a part-time performer as spring training sessions loomed up only four days away.

While the clubs were getting generally satisfying news, Pitcher Jim Bagby of the Cleveland Indians was continuing his personal feud with Manager Lou Boudreau by asking for "voluntary retirement for the duration."

Bagby was the most outspoken in his dissatisfaction as he applied for an examination for the Merchant Marines although many "name" players still are outside the fold.

Here are the latest developments:

American League

NEW YORK—President Ed Barrow of the Yankees announced that all players, signed or unsigned, were welcome at the Atlantic City camp in a sharp reversal of usual procedure. Signed contracts of Pitchers Atley Donald, Floyd Bevens and Johnny Johnson were received along with one from Coach Art Fletcher. Outfielder Russ Derry was reported "frozen" on his farm for the season.

BOSTON—Pitcher Dick Newsum ordered to report for preinduction examination March 13 by San Diego, Cal. board, planned to ask transfer to Winston, N. C. PHILADELPHIA—Wagner said he would stay in Philadelphia war plant, catch home games and make A's week-end trips to New York, and Washington.

ST. LOUIS—Vernon Stephens rejected by armed services because of bad knee.

CHICAGO—Pitcher Lee Ross signed contract, bringing White Sox list to 20 satisfied athletes.

DETROIT—Paul Trout reported six days in advance of training routine at Evansville, Ind., received word to report Friday for draft physical and traveled on to Detroit. Trout had been reclassified 1-A Feb. 9.

National League

NEW YORK—Giants announced nine-game exhibition schedule including special Red Cross benefit tilt with Yankees at Polo Grounds, April 13. Signed Pitcher Walter Okey, 23, a six-footer discharged from the Army, who won 13 games for Milford, Del., in Class D in 1941.

BOSTON—Outfielder Charles Workman signed contract.

PHILADELPHIA—Pitcher

Dick Barrett, Julius Homokay of Utica, N. Y., Eastern League club and Charley Schanz of San Diego, Cal., Pacific Coast League club, all right-handers, signed contracts. Johns Hopkins denounced Phils and "demanded suitable satisfaction" for stealing Blue Jay nickname. Owner Bob Carpenter equipped, "when did Johns Hopkins ever win a ball game?"

ST. LOUIS—Whitey Kurowski, regular third baseman, came to terms with Cardinals in phone conversation.

CHICAGO—Outfielder Dominic Dalesandro announced he had been rejected by the Army and classified 4-F due to head injury suffered in baseball.

17 Tigers Train In Wind, Snow

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 9 (AP)—Pitcher Paul Trout, a 20-game winner last season, was among the early birds at the start of Detroit Tiger spring training, but he didn't stay long. Arriving here six days in advance of the starting date for Detroit regulars, Trout found orders to report tomorrow for his selective service physical examination and left at once for Detroit.

Seventeen players, most of them outside the military draft, participated in a 30-minute workout in a cold wind and occasional snowfall.

Among the arrivals was 17-year-old Hector Joyce, who came by bus from El Paso, Tex., bearing a letter of introduction from his father who once played sandlot ball with Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers.

Former H. C. Ace Dies in Crash

LYMANSVILLE, R. I., March 9 (AP)—First Lieut. George E. Gilson of the Marine Corps, former National Intercollegiate high hurdles champion as a Holy Cross student in 1942, was killed in the South Pacific as a result of a traffic accident, it was learned here.

Notification of the lieutenant's death was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Gilson. Lieut. Gilson joined the Marines immediately after his graduation from Holy Cross in the spring of 1942. He was commissioned a second lieutenant on Nov. 18, 1942, and assigned to combat duty in the South Pacific.

Marathon

A reminder that spring is just around the corner reached Winthrop sq. today.

The Boston Athletic Ass'n's announcement it will sponsor its 48th annual marathon run on April 19.

Where the runners will be found this year nobody knows but you can bet there'll be a small army of plodders up in Hopkinton at noon on Patriot's Day to answer the gun.

THE JOHNSON MURPHY SHOE

Yes... It's A CORRECTIVE The Trase

We call this model The Trase. More foot muscle comfort and arch support per square inch than you would believe possible in such a well styled perfectly proportioned shoe. Men the country over wear it with confidence and pride because of its slipper-like comfort and fine appearance. Tan Russia or black, gun metal calf.
